Abstract:

In Baloch history, there is an unfortunate period of time that had come in the life of Rind & Lashar tribes when they started rivaling each other. They had slashed and killed their own brothers in this strife. They ruined their rule and reputation with their own hands. A long war was happening between Lashar & Rind, which called the thirty years war in the history. This civil war had many causes, as Chakar Rind succession, conflicting Lasharis, occupation of fertile land, Goharam Lashari started separate rule and increase his power in Gandawa and Kachhi, conspiracy of neighbors, status of females in Society of Baloch, the reputation of Gohar's Protection (Bahote), and horse racing in Sibi festival. These aspects demolished the Lasharis and Rind tribes and their rule in Balochistan. The basic objective behind the study is to identify the main causes of thirty years war. Why did Baloch fight a long war together? Which factors had compelled and emotionally motivated them to fight a dangerous war. The aim of this research article is to point out the main factors of the war. There were several reasons of the conflict. The causes are given as follows:
