

Literature, Society, and the role of Criticism

ادب ، ټولنه او کره کتنه

Dr. Naseebullah Seemab (Assistant Professor, Department of Pashto, UOB, Quetta)

Abstract:

This paper argues on the essence of Literature reflecting the collective consciousness of a society. It elaborates that, Literature analysis of the popular responses and reactions regarding peculiar things can easily be understood and contextualized through an analytical glance at its literature. Criticism in this context helps in unpacking the reality and helps us to assess the creative dialectics in which creativity and society influence each other. One of the prime objectives of criticism is to ascertain the direction of popular literature for the purpose of expression, creativity and righteousness. Elaboration and analysis of the particular social behaviors in Literature also diversify the themes and patterns of reflections. The role of a poet and story writer further enhances while connecting their creativity with concrete social realities

Key words: Literature, Society, Role of Criticism.