Abstract:

Every language have four parts which are archaic words, pure, borrowing and new words. Borrowings especially adoption are the special type of words formation. It is the need of language to adopt words for expressions because new inventions, ideas and terms come in any language with their names. With the passage of time some words converts their meaning or structure. This conversion of other language in Pashto could "Mufaghan" these words come from adopted words, but became the part of Pashto, like pure words. In this article I discussed those words which changed, structurally and semantically from Arabic into Pashto.

Key words: Borrowing, inventions, passage, adopted, semantically.
