

Cultural evolution in Society

Hashim.Yasmeen, Razzaq.Waheed and Baloch. Abida

Abstract

Culture is the name of a continuous process. This process becomes the part of traditional creativity and supports a nation in its development. Explaining it traditionally, it contains the history of a nation including its civilization, custom and norms and this is culture which transfers these social norms from generation to generation. If this process in some way stops than the development of the nation also freezes which results laziness and weakness. Then here creates a space which gives an opportunity to an intellectual to explain that gap and guide the nation explaining every angle of the culture leading it to make headway.

Keywords: Culture, Social norms, Nation.