

Brahui Khalkee Shaairee tee Riwayat aataa Raajee Darshaanee

Shahjahan Resani (M.Phil Scholar at department of Brahui, UoB, Quetta)

Abstract

This research paper argued, that the four fathers spared the fundamental knowledge according to their wisdom. The experiences of their daily routine became customs. Those customs made traditions and the tradition leded the civilization. Objectives of this paper is to disclose the social and psychological characteristics in folklore. This custom originated from the different traditions like, seasonal traveling especially nomadic life opens the customs in shape of folklore, secondly this paper shows the hidden life history and nomadism story of our ancient. Moreover, the saying and proverbs dispenses the wisdom and exercise of daily life. A quantitative approach of research conducted this study. the descriptive methods or research has been adopted to final this study.

Key words: folklore, wisdom, customs, nomadism, proverbs.