

Bráhuí Şáírí tí Rúmánvíat o Kílasíkíat

Prof. Dr. Hameed Shahwani

Abstract

The masterpieces of the past whether they are in the form of poetry or prose or prose considered to be the classics of today many known poet and prose-writers had penned down a lot of informative pieces of writings which are also thought to be the classics of different times simultaneously . For example, the Greek Homer, the portraits of Picasso and the Urdu poetry of Zoq and Josh are also the form of classics, In this paper, I will take a glance over the Greek classic literature, comparison between the classics and romanticism. Apart from this , the classical literature of the Brahui language will be the main portion of this paper , the effect of neighboring classical literature will also be mentioned in detail, the classical poetry concerning to the resistance of Brahui people against the Brahui Raj will also be focused.

Keywords: Homer, Zoq and Josh, romanticism, Brahui Raj

Prof. Dr. Hameed Shahwani is with department of Brahui