

Brahui Language, Brahuilology and Balochistan.

Prof. Bahadur Khan Rodeni & Dr. Zeenat Sana Baloch.

Abstract:-

Balochistan is the largest province of Pakistan. It is forty two percent of the total area of Pakistan. However, the population of Balochistan is the lowest. It is 6.5 million; Balochistan is a multi linguistic province. Many languages are spoken and written. There are important among the Brahui, Balochi and Pashto. Balochi and Brahui have many common words. Brahui is considered the oldest language spoken in Balochistan. According to famous Russian Scholar Uri: Genko Vsky, it is an old as 3000 B.C. the Brahuis came earlier then Baloch from Alburz, and settled in central Balochistan. The original Brahuis are Mirwanis, Qambranis, Gurganaris, Sumalanies, Qalandranis, Rodains and Zagar Mengales, Ahmed Zais are basically decendents of Qambranies these tribes are sons of Miro Mirwani. The other tribes who speak Brahui mengles with Brahuis and formed a confederacy. The Brahui language spoken in sarawan, jhalawan Chagai, Noshki and Kachi, some parts of Sindh and Afghanistan.

Keywords: Brahuilology and Balochistan, Uri: Genko Vsky. sarawan, jhalawan Chagai, Noshki

Prof. Bahdur Khan Rodeni is Director, Pakistan Study Centre, University of Balochistan Quetta & Dr. Zeenat Sana Baloch is Chairperson of Balochi department, University of Balochistan